MARKETING & COMMUNICATION CASE STUDIES

Finance Trust Bank

Through our continuous digital marketing initiatives, Finance Trust Bank is now one of the most active banks on Digital, strategically managing any crises online such as the recent Tier 2 Transition.

The Challenge

Finance Trust Bank was experiencing stagnation in digital performance due to overreliance on organic growth and traction from job posts. While job-related content consistently performed well, other posts—especially those about the bank's products and services—struggled to gain traction or drive engagement.

Our Solution

We developed a comprehensive Go-To-Marketing digital strategy focused on integrated digital tactics that would reposition the brand from being job-post-led to becoming a vibrant and relatable brand and one of the leading banking brands across digital.

Key tactics included:

- Introducing humanized content such as motivational quotes and real-time event updates.
- Leveraging partnerships like the support of Uganda Women's Football through FUFA to build visibility and partner-endorsed engagement.
- Executing paid media campaigns with quarterly boosts across LinkedIn, Instagram, Facebook, and X.
- Proposing the "Financially Fit with FTB" podcast to position the brand around financial literacy and tap into modern content curation.
- Continuous digital monitoring and social care to ensure positive digital PR and mitigate negative sentiment.

The Results

- 1.1M+ cumulative ad views in 2025 alone
- 250K+ impressions from Uganda Women's Football support content
- 30+ events covered, each generating 10K+ impressions on LinkedIn
- 100% increase in positive brand mentions, with negative mentions actively addressed and reduced through monitoring
- 100% visibility versus competitors as one of the most active brands top engagement, top follower growth and top post frequency

Population Services International

Through our digital strategy, we were also able to record the highest-converting Ads in Uganda and Nigeria during a Meta Brand Lift Study in 2021.

The Challenge

The Delivering Innovations in Self-Care (DISC) project has been a transformative initiative in Nigeria and Uganda, aiming to enhance women's knowledge and demand for self-care in sexual and reproductive health (SRH). By focusing on DMPA-SC and other self-injection (SI) methods, DISC has paved the way for self-care to become a cornerstone of SRH, giving back women the control of their reproductive health. Despite the potential of self-care in reproductive health, limited awareness, and demand for self-injection (SI) contraceptive methods posed significant barriers. Providers and consumers lacked the knowledge and confidence needed to adopt these innovative solutions, necessitating a comprehensive strategy to foster understanding, demand, and accessibility.

Our Solution

- Launched a dynamic digital campaign targeting women of reproductive age in Uganda and Nigeria, spreading SI education messages across multiple platforms.
- This campaign leveraged several digital touch points such as the website, chatbots, social media channels and macro and nano influencer engagement
- We also looked at creating cross-regional content for Uganda and Nigeria
- The goal was to generate as many clicks as possible to our existing digital assets

The Results

- The Discover Your Power campaign reached over 248 million people with educational messaging on SI.
- Over 443,000 women were inspired to seek SI services within a short span, accounting for close to 1 Million SI Visits.

Trough our strategic digital marketing activities, Guradian Health Pharmacy is now a Thriving Pharma brand.

- Increased reach of 200K+ per month

HOW WE DO IT

Thrive Marketing, Publishing & PR profile

Our Marketing Process

Our Publishing Process

Our Trainings' Process

Needs Assessment

We are always happy to pass on knowledge through our strategic and well-structured trainings from marketing, publishing and public relations depending on the needs of our clients.

Setting objectives

Once the needs are identified, we then set objectives that we use to measure the success of our trainings in comparison to the knowledge gaps.

Designing training programmes

Every training programme encompasses certain issues such as: Who are the trainees? Who are the trainers? What methods are to be used for the training? What will be the level of training? Also, the comprehensive action plan is designed that includes the training content, material, learning theories, instructional design, and the other training requisites.

Implementation of the programme

Once the designing of the training programme is completed, the next step is to put it into the action. The foremost decision that needs to be made is where the training will be conducted either at our offices/content creation studio or in the organization that needs our training programs.

Evaluation

After the training is done, trainees are asked to give their feedback on the training session and how they are going to apply the lessons. Through feedback, we also determine the weak spots if any, to rectify it in the next session.

Our Public Relations Process

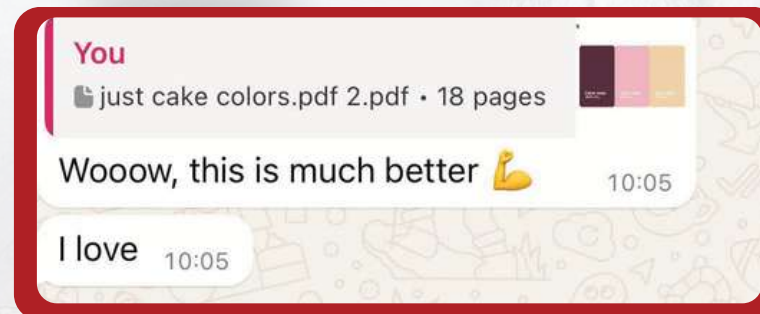

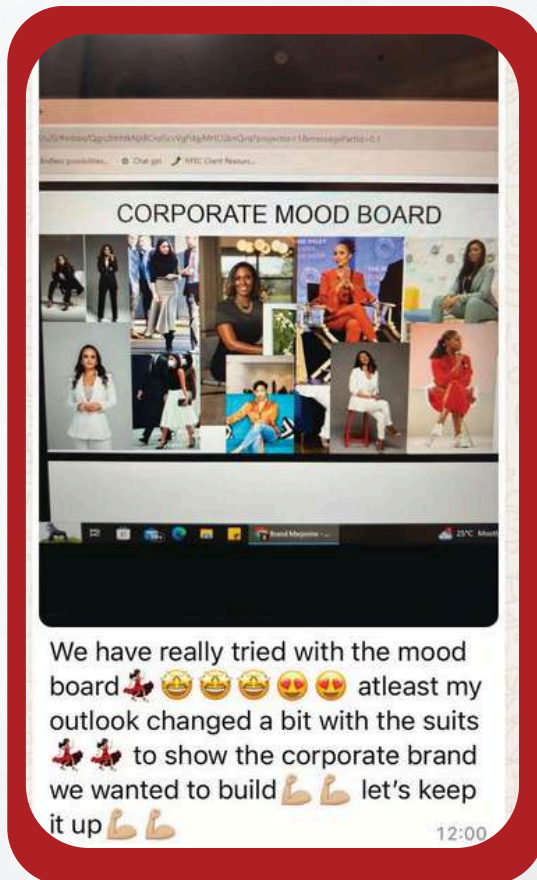

Our Influencer Management Process

At Thrive, we manage influencers for our digital marketing clients and also provide direct management services for influencers.
